

CFC internship teams

When filling out your application form, you have the option of selecting the top three teams you would like to work in. Below is a brief overview of each team available and the qualities they are looking for in an applicant.

1. Medical malpractice

The medical malpractice team underwrite healthcare risks ranging from individual practitioners such as surgeons and doctors through to corporate entities such as hospitals and clinics. Our chosen project will be suited to an individual who has strong numeracy and analytical skills with good attention to detail.

2. Transaction liability

Transaction Liability insurance is a valuable tool to help buyers and sellers facilitate mergers and acquisitions. Our chosen project will be suited to an individual with strong analytical and decision-making skills that is able to work under pressure and has an interest in business and the world of international transactions.

3. Financial institutions

Financial Institutions underwrite insurances for SME and midmarket Financial Institutions insureds (Banks, Asset and Fund Managers, Fintechs, Lenders etc.) The team has an inclusive vibe a lot of open discussions on individual risks and our overall appetite. Our chosen projects will be suited to an individual who is an organised self-starter with confidence and a technical/academic background.

4. Technology, media and intellectual property

Tech, media & IP provide insurance solutions to exciting emerging technology and digital media businesses in addition to a unique intellectual property offering for a whole host of new inventions. Our chosen projects would be well suited to someone with an interest in marketing and has strong written and verbal communications skills.

5. Cyber

The CFC cyber team are now one of the largest underwriting teams globally, insuring cyber risk for over 65,000 businesses in over 65 countries around the world by looking at their intangible exposures across their data, networks and software. Our projects will greatly contribute to our wider distribution strategy and require the individual to have some experience in research projects, and an inclination towards innovation and challenging industry norms.

6. Property & casualty

The P&C team write public liability, products liability, and property cover for a broad range of enterprises globally. Whether it's food, electronics, clothing or sporting goods, products should meet certain standards, but occasionally these products cause injury, or damage to someone's property. Our chosen project would be well suited to someone with good attention to detail and strong numeracy skills, who is a motivated self-starter with an interest in insurance.

7. Management liability

Management Liability protects organisations of all sizes against both traditional and emerging risks faced at board level. Our chosen projects will be suited to an individual who is organised, has an eye for detail, is a strong communicator with good writing skills. The candidate will be required to work collaboratively with various departments across the business.

8. Product recall

The recall team underwrite all manner of products globally from food and drink, consumer products to automotive component parts. Our chosen projects will be suited to an individual who is a team player, confident to share their opinion with a willingness to learn.

9. Claims

Ultimately underwriters sell the claims service. When an incident occurs, the policy is more than a stack of paper – the assistance provided by the Claims team is the cornerstone of the CFC and everything we do! Our claims department consists of 7 teams, the chosen intern will work in a rotation of all teams, giving them greater exposure with the opportunity to learn about all aspects of CFC's claims team.

- Claims Operations
- Cyber Threat Analysis ('CTA')
- Incident Response ('IR')
- Cyber
- Emerging Risks ('ER')
- Financial Lines ('FL')
- Specialty Lines ('SL')

10. Operations

The operations team works at making CFC function as smoothly as possible. To do this, we work with all teams across the business on numerous projects. These range from changing the way we bill our customers, to changing the way we handle policy renewals. Our project will be suited to an individual who is interested in all aspects of how an insurance company operates, who works well autonomously and is detail oriented.

11. Products

Products is the drafting function. We engage with stakeholders across the business to create, develop and upgrade our product lines. Our chosen projects will be suited to an individual with strong drafting, communication, and problem-solving abilities.
